KANUGA TRAILS CONSERVANCY

Welcome to Kanuga's Trails

Within Kanuga's 1,400 acres are hiking trails that range in difficulty from easy to strenuous, each with its own special appeal. We invite you to connect with each other, nature, and the Creator as you walk these paths like so many thousands before you.

Guidelines

- Leave no trace. Please bring litter you may find on the trails back to campus.
- Stay on marked trails.
- Keep pets on leash and clean up after them.
- Respect wildlife; keep your distance.
- Leave plants and flowers for others to enjoy.
- Be aware of mountain bikers on nearby downhill biking trails.
- Respect fellow hikers; refrain from cell phone use.
- No, bikes, vehicles, or horses on hiking trails.
- Evans and Kanuga Lake are state roads; use caution.

Baldwin's Reach
MODERATE - Orange Blaze - .5 mi.
Start: Foster Educational Garden
Finish: Corn Mtn, Sunset Point

Facing the gazebo by the Foster Educational Garden, the trailhead begins to the right. Cross Little Mud Creek and continue past the garden. Cross over the creek again and find the trail directly across Evans Road from the bridge. After a short, steep climb through rhododendron, Baldwin's Reach meets Corn Mountain Loop and the path to Sunset Point.

Corn Mountain Loop
MODERATE - White Blaze - 2.83 mi.
Start: Daisy's Lake Trailhead at Foster Educational Garden
Finish: Sunset Point

Daisy's Lake Trail
EASY - White Blaze - 1.75 mi.
Start: Far right corner of dam
Finish: Daisy's Long Loop or Daisy's Short Loop

This mostly flat, wooded path encircling Kanuga Lake is shady and serene, lined with rhododendron and mountain laurel.

Daisy's Short Loop
After passing behind the Kanuga cross on the right, descend the stairs to the right (note: steep). Use Lowery's Crossing boardwalk to follow the trail to the gym. Follow the forest's edge or use cottage roads to reach Main Lodge.

Daisy's Long Loop
Continue past Lowery's Creek stairs. Keep right until seeing Foster Education Garden. Turn right on the gravel road, pass Ned Ball Pond on the right, then Bob Campbell Youth Campus on the left. The road becomes paved, and leads back to main campus. Short-cut: Pass the pond, walk through Pinky Elliott Field on the right. Cross the small bridge facing the gym, and use lakeside cottage paths to reach the lodge.

Daisy's Extension
EASY - White Blaze - .26 mi.
Start: Daisy's Lake, Dam entry
Finish: Daisy's Lake Trail, Corn Mountain Loop

Take the higher path to the left of the main trail. Once you reach the end, turn left to continue toward the cross and Lowery's Crossing.

Doug Stirling
Difficult - Yellow Blaze - 2 mi.

Finish: Wolf Mountain or High Rocks Overlook

Find the trail at the far left side of the dam; go over the footbridge. Cross Kanuga Lake Road and follow Little Mud Creek for a quarter-mile before re-crossing it near bottoms field. This leads back to Kanuga Lake Road, near Ride Kanuga's green gate. Use caution crossing the road. Follow yellow blazes past a lake and zipline on the right. Take the old logging road on the right for about 100 yards, then left up several switchbacks into a cove area. At the cove top, turn left then left again to follow another old logging road. Wolf Mountain Out & Back Trail is on the left, leading to the top of Wolf Mountain. You may also turn to the right to continue on Doug Stirling.

Geyer Long Rocks
Difficult - Yellow Blaze - 1.3 mi.
Start: Carter Lodge
Finish: Long Rocks Overlook

Carter Lodge is located on the guest houses road, behind cottage 26. Pass Carter Lodge, then up to road to enter the red gate on the left. Keep following the road for less than .25 mi. and look for the trailhead on the right. A steep, .6-mile climb leads to the expansive vista at the overlook.

Jim Redd Trail
Difficult - Red Blaze - 2 mi.
Start: Carter Lodge
Finish: Long Rocks Overlook

Carter Lodge is located on the guest houses road, behind cottage 26. Pass Carter Lodge and enter the red gate on the left. You will pass the Geyer Long Rocks trailhead. Keep straight to reach the open field (Covered Wagons campsite). Cross the field to find the next trail sign (Jim Redd Trail). The trail climbs along power lines, a logging road, and a primitive trail. Be sure to look for the blazes. The trail climbs and descends several times before the final climb to reach Long Rocks Overlook.

Quarry Trail
Easy - Green Blaze - .5 mi.
Start: Behind Andrews Dining Hall at Bob Campbell Youth Campus
Finish: Jim Redd power cut

With the back of the dining hall on your left, proceed up the gravel road. Pass Gehman Chapel on the left and Perry Pavilion on the right. Continue straight until reaching Little Mud Creek on your left. Follow the creek through the forest until reaching the power cut.

Rufus Morgan
Moderate - Blue Blaze - 1 mi.
Start: High Rocks Trail Road
Finish: High Rocks, Wolf Mountain

Walk 20 yards up the gravel road then left at Stations of the Cross trailhead (do not continue up the gravel road). Pass St. Francis outdoor chapel at left and continue alongside the creek. After the first boardwalk, Stations of the Cross trail turns left over a footbridge. Remain straight. After several more footbridges and a short climb, turn left at the blue trail blaze to follow an old roadbed. Pass through Hungry Dog Gap (at this "intersection," pass Long Rocks trail on the left. Continue straight, then around a gentle curve, following the blue blaze, keeping to the right to reach High Rocks. Doug Stirling trailhead is to the left of the old stone fireplace.

Stations of the Cross
EASY - Follow the Stations Markers - .15 mi.
Start: High Rocks Trail Road
Finish: St. Francis Chapel or Guest Cottages

Walk 20 yards up the gravel road then left at Stations of the Cross trailhead; this is also the Rufus Morgan trailhead (do not continue up the gravel road). After the first boardwalk, take the footbridge at left to cross the creek. (Rufus Morgan Trail continues straight.) The path rises gently. At the top, return to the cottages (straight) or St. Francis Chapel (left and down steps).

Sunset Point Overlook
Easy - Blue Blaze - .25 mi.
Start: Corn Mountain Loop
Finish: Sunset Point Overlook

The trailhead is about one mile in from the red gate at the start of Corn Mountain Loop, or a quarter-mile from the top of Baldwin's Reach. Turn left at the trailhead and continue around several curves for about 100 yards. There is a split in the trail that creates a small loop. The overlook faces Northeast with winter views into Crab Creek Valley.

Wolf Mountain Out & Back
Moderate - Red Blaze - 2 mi.
Start: High Rocks Overlook
Finish: Wolf Mountain Overlook

From High Rocks Overlook, take the Doug Stirling Trail along the ridge for about a quarter-mile. At the trails intersection, turn left to find the trailhead sign for Wolf Mountain Out & Back, immediately on the right-hand side of the clearing. The trail climbs up the mountainside to the top of Wolf Mountain. Walk between two posts and take a sharp left to reach the top (Ride Kanuga Mountain Bike Park pavilion). All trails located at the top of wolf mountain are for mountain bikes only. Return using the same trail.
